KRS Dam got 20-year lowest inflow in 2023-24

REASONS: Monsoon failure, forest loss, land conversions in Kodagu

2004	97 tmcft
2005	193 tmcft
2007	235 tmcft
2012	86.8 tmcft
2016	79.6 tmcft
2017	92.8 tmcft
2018	244 tmcft
2022	324 tmcft
2023	78 tmcft

Mysuru, June 2 (AG&BCT)- Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, the lifeline of the people of Mandya and Mysuru districts, which also caters to the drinking water needs of towns and cities in Cauvery basin and Bengaluru, has recorded the lowest inflow in 20 years during the monsoon year of 2023 and 2024.

The KRS Dam in Srirangapatna Taluk of Mandya district, which used to have sufficient water for drinking and agricultural activities, faces an acute shortage due to monsoon failure, rampant deforestation and unbridled land conversion for commercial purposes in Kodagu and depleting groundwater levels due to urbanisation, blocking rainwater seepage into the ground.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Democracy cannot be the highest possibility man can attain. It is good in comparison to other forms of government that have preceded it, but not something that can succeed it. I call that meritocracy. I want a government by the people of merit. And merit is a very rare quality.

As the situation is, all the geniuses of the world are outside governments. It is hilarious: those geniuses are needed in government because they can give the best world to humanity, but they are servants of retarded politicians.

The situation may be a little bit different in different countries, but the basic thing is the same: the people of merit are not the people who rule. The people who rule are always mediocre. Democracy, rightly translated, is mediocracy. I cannot support mediocracy. I would like people of merit, geniuses, to manage the world — and things would be totally different…

You can make it a point that you have to have a first-class bachelor's degree if you want to vote in State government. You have to have a doctorate if you want to stand for any position in federal government — a Ph.D is absolutely necessary. If you want to become the President of the country, then you must have at least a D.Litt or DSc. Without having these qualifications, you cannot run for the post.

So we should require merits for each post — the highest merits. And we should make grades of voters: for Federal government, the highest degree; for State government, a lower degree; for the County, a little lower degree.

But meritocracy has to take the place of democracy. And there are thousands of geniuses around the world…and remember, geniuses are never destructive; they are always creative. With a genius President in US, and a genius President in Russia, a third world war becomes impossible. In fact, with geniuses ruling all over the world, the day will not be far off when they will decide that it is better to make one world rather than divide it into nations, because that solves problems more easily.

It is simple…a world government can look at the whole world as one humanity. Problems are not so much as they appear… And if there is one world, then there is no need for seventy-five percent of every nation's wealth to be wasted on nuclear weapons, on armies, on other kinds of war materials. Seventy-five percent! Humanity is living only on twenty-five percent. If there are no longer any nations, the question of war does not arise. A hundred percent of all energy, money and income becomes available to the whole world.

Democracy is not succeeding; it has failed. It was better than its predecessors, but now we have to find a new alternative, because democracy has failed. I call it meritocracy. The future belongs to meritocracy.

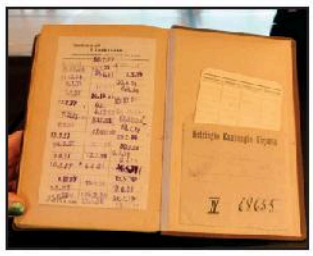
Book returned to library after 84 years



Helsinki : A book by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle was returned to a library in Finland 84 years past its due date.

Helsinki Central Library Oodi said on social media that a person recently brought in a Finnish translation of Doyle's historical novel Refugees that has been due back Dec. 26, 1939.

Librarian Heini Strand said there was no information on why the book was 84 years overdue, but she offered a theory. "Usually these kinds of loans returned decades after the due date are books found when people go through deceased relatives' belongings," Strand said.

Strand pointed out the book had been due back one month after the Soviet Union invaded Finland in November 1939.

Noisy chickens keep village residents awake

Norfolk: Residents of an English town are complaining about a noisy group of unruly locals -- a flock of about 100 feral chickens.

Residents in the Common Road area of Snettisham, Norfolk, said the chickens frequently dig up their gardens and the birds are so loud they have to wear earplugs at night. The residents had complained to the Snettisham Parish Council.

The Council responded to the complaints, explaining no plans are currently in place to take any specific action. The Council invited villagers on both sides of the chicken debate to attend a meeting Tuesday to make their concerns and desires known.

"We are not threatening to 'evict' the chickens. We are seeking advice from various sources. We have sought advice from this particular rescue charity as they are experts in the needs, behaviour, health and welfare of chickens," the Snettisham Parish Council said on its website.

Nivedithanagar Park lacks several basic amenities

Sir,

Nivedithanagar Park is renowned as one of the best parks in Mysuru, boasting lush greenery and natural beauty, thanks to the dedicated gardener who takes utmost care.

A large number of visitors, including both seniors and young individuals, frequent the park to enjoy leisurely walks and spend quality time.

However, the park lacks several basic amenities. The walking path is noticeably old and has an uneven surface, causing discomfort and knee pain, especially among elderly visitors. Additionally, the restroom facilities are unclean, discouraging people from using them.

Parking for four-wheelers becomes challenging, particularly on weekends and requires better regulation.

Installation of zebra crossings in front of the park is essential to ensure the safety of seniors, protecting them from fast-moving vehicles on both ends.

The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) should take proactive steps to maintain the park by renovating the walk paths and improving restroom facilities. Assigning someone to address user complaints, with their contact information prominently displayed, would enhance communication and accountability.

Furthermore, introducing a complaint register for visitors to record their grievances and track corrective actions is necessary. We hope that the Mysuru City Corporation will promptly address these issues and enhance the park's facilities for the benefit of all visitors.

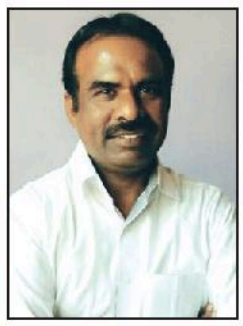
Legislative Council Polls from Assembly 2024

BJP finalises C.T. Ravi, N. Ravikumar, M.G. Muley

Bengaluru, June 2 (VNS)- The suspense over the naming of candidates for the upcoming Legislative Council polls (from Assembly) from the BJP came to an end with the party high command announcing former Minister C.T. Ravi, sitting MLC N. Ravikumar, and former Maratha Development Authority Chairman M.G. Muley as its candidates.

C.T. Ravi



N. Ravikumar

M.G. Muley

C.T. Ravi, a former Kannada and Culture Minister, had served as BJP National General Secretary before being dropped last year. The former Minister, a prominent Vokkaliga leader, had lost the 2023 Assembly polls from the Chikkamagaluru constituency.

There had been speculation that he would contest the Lok Sabha polls from the Udupi-Chikkamagaluru constituency after sitting MP and Union Minister of State for Agriculture Shobha Karandlaje was shifted to Bengaluru North. However, the BJP high command decided otherwise and fielded former Minister and MLC Kota Srinivasa Poojary from the constituency.

The BJP high command has also approved sitting MLC N. Ravikumar, who belongs to the Gangamathasta community, and Maratha leader M.G. Muley (Maruthirao G. Muley).

Many had expected the BJP to field Mandya MP Sumalatha Ambareesh (who had sacrificed their tickets in the Lok Sabha polls) and Mysuru-Kodagu MP Prathap Simha, who was denied a ticket to contest. However, the party has not yet made any public statements about the political future of these two leaders.

A total of 17 MLCs will be elected in two Legislative Council polls to be held on June 3 and June 13. While six will be elected from teachers' and graduates' constituencies on June 3 (tomorrow), 11 will be elected by the MLAs on June 13.

With each candidate requiring 19 votes, the BJP, with 66 MLAs, can elect three MLCs, JD(S), with 19 MLAs, can elect one, while the ruling Congress, with 135 MLAs, can elect seven MLCs. However, both Congress and JD(S) are yet to finalise their candidates.

Mysuru, June 2 (MTY&DM)- With the Legislative Council polls for six Teachers and Graduates Constituencies (3 Teachers and 3 Graduates) across the State scheduled to take place tomorrow (June 3), the Election Commission has made all preparations for smooth conduct of the polls.

The Constituencies going to the polls are Karnataka South Teachers, South-West Graduates, South-West Teachers, Bengaluru Graduates, North-East Graduates and South-East Teachers Constituencies.

In Mysuru, the stage is set for the conduct of polls for South Teachers Constituency that comprises the districts of Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan and Chamarajanagar.

There are a total of 21,549 voters (11,998 men, 9550 women and 1 others) in South Teachers Constituency in which a total of 11 candidates are in the fray. However, the Constituency is witnessing a direct fight between Congress candidate Marithibbegowda and BJP-JD(S) coalition NDA candidate K. Vivekananda. In the past, the Constituency used to witness a three-corner contest with the Congress, BJP and JD(S) candidates in the fray. But with the BJP and the JD(S) forming an alliance, the seat was left to the JD(S), which has fielded K. Vivekananda of Mandya.

The Congress candidate Marithibbegowda has been elected from this Constituency for four successive terms and there is a keen contest on the cards between the Congress and NDA candidate.

Mysuru district has almost half the number of voters - 10,439, while Mandya district has 5,403, Hassan - 3,526 and Chamarajanagar - 2,181 voters.

The polling will take place by ballot papers method and preferential voting, where a voter has to specify his/her choice of candidate by marking in the order of preference in English numericals (1,2,3,4 etc.,) only.

The voting will take place from 8 am to 4 pm in a total of 44 centres spread across the four districts, including 20 in Mysuru district alone, 10 in Hassan, 9 in Mandya and 5 in Chamarajanagar. A total of 194 poll personnel have been deployed for South Teachers Constituency.

In view of the polls, the City Police have clamped prohibitory orders in the City Police Commissionerate limits from 5 am to 12 midnight tomorrow as a measure for smooth conduct of the polls and maintenance of Law and Order.

Two other Constituencies coming under Mysuru Revenue Division too are going to the polls tomorrow — South-West Teachers and South-West Graduates, both of which encompass the districts of Chikkamagalur, Dakshina Kannada, Kodagu, Shivamogga and Udupi and parts of Davangere district.

The counting of votes of all the 6 Constituencies will be taken up on June 6.

Most exit polls predict over 350 seats for BJP-led NDA

New Delhi, June 2 (Agencies)- After a marathon Lok Sabha election 2024, spread over six weeks, the second longest general election since 1951-52, a big win for the ruling BJP-led NDA has been predicted by twelve exit polls.

The BJP and its allies are expected to breach the 300-seat mark once again, with major gains in the southern States where the BJP gained not just vote share but also seats.

The exit polls have also predicted NDA dominance in Karnataka and Maharashtra and the Left-led alliance's rout in Kerala. In Bengal, the exit polls predicted a better performance for the BJP than it did the last time (22). Most exit polls have said that the BJP will now be the single-largest party in Bengal in terms of Lok Sabha seats.

How accurate were the exit polls in 2019? In 2019, an average of 13 exit polls put the NDA's combined tally at 306 and the UPA's at 120 — underestimating the NDA's performance, which won 353 seats in all. The UPA got 93. Of these, the BJP won 303, and the Congress 52.

What are exit polls? Exit polls are surveys of voters conducted by agencies to gauge the results of an election forecast the winner and understand voter patterns. While they are not always accurate, they give a reasonable indication of an election.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi, 73, and his party, BJP, are widely expected to come back to power for a third straight term. The Congress, hamstrung by-poll losses and a string of defections, is part of the Opposition bloc INDIA taking on the BJP.

The BJP this time has set a target of 370 seats and with help from its allies aims to go past the 400 mark. There are 543 seats in the Lower House of Parliament and the majority mark is 272.

Election results are to be announced on Tuesday (June 4).

K.R. Pet industrialist's son is now an Indian Navy Lieutenant

B.M. Sagar, who has been selected to join the Indian Navy as a Lieutenant, is seen with his parents B.C. Manju and Chandrakala.

Mysuru, June 2 (VNS)- Not many parents with a single child would dare to send their offspring to serve the nation in the military. However, there is an exceptional case where an industrialist from K.R. Pet in Mandya supported his son's decision to join the Indian Navy.

B.C. Manju, an industrialist, and his wife Chandrakala are proud parents of B.M. Sagar, who has been selected to join the Indian Navy as a Lieutenant. A Lieutenant in the Indian Navy is a commissioned officer rank that is comparable to a Captain in the Indian Army or a Flight Lieutenant in the Indian Air Force. The rank holds a significant role in the Naval hierarchy and comes with specific responsibilities.

Sagar's induction into the Navy has not only made his parents proud but also brought honour to the entire taluk. Although Sagar's parents initially hoped he would take over the family-run Prema Electrical Industry, they readily agreed when he expressed his desire to serve the nation.

Sagar, now the first from K.R. Pet taluk to become a Lieutenant, completed his primary and secondary education at St. Joseph's School, Mysuru, pursued his PU education at Mahesh PU College and earned a BE in Civil Engineering from Vidyavardhaka College of Engineering (VVCE).

Lieutenant Sagar drew inspiration from his grandfather, Chandrappa, who aspired to serve in the Indian Army. Chandrappa held positions as the President of Bookahalli Village Panchayat, Mandal Panchayat Head and PLD Bank Director. Sagar's father, Manju, also has a history of public service, having served as the President of the K.R. Pet Taluk BJP Unit.

Speaking to the media, Sagar mentioned that his grandfather Chandrappa expressed great joy upon hearing about his selection to the Indian Navy.

Officials to be held responsible for supply of polluted water: DC

Mysuru, June 2 (BLU&VNS)- Officials incharge of the concerned Local Bodies will be held responsible if people face health issues owing to supply of contaminated water, said Deputy Commissioner (DC) Dr. K.V. Rajendra here yesterday.

Dr. Rajendra

Chairing a meeting with taluk level officers through video conferencing at Zilla Panchayat (ZP) auditorium, the DC instructed the officials not to supply drinking water without conducting prior tests and the same has to be supplied only after getting a confirmation about their purity.

"Drinking water storage unit must be cleansed on regular basis and efforts should be made to take up chlorination works at every stage. The officials must also prevent the collection of stagnant water near the borewells apart from ensuring free flow of water in drains and construction of concrete structures surrounding water sources," he added.

The Deputy Commissioner also told the officials to instruct the hotels and street vendors to maintain cleanliness and provide clean drinking water to customers. He also instructed the officials to work in co-ordination with various departments to prevent the spread of chikungunya and dengue diseases.

The officials were also asked to keep a vigil on water pipelines and to prevent drinking water getting mixed with polluted water. "On finding cases of people suffering from gastroenteritis, vomiting and diarrhoea in rural areas, the officials must rush immediately rush to such villages to ensure preventive measures were in place to prevent further spread of such cases. The officials must also report about such cases to the District Administration," he added.

Dr. Rajendra also instructed the officials to conduct timely checks for quality of water stored in overhead tanks.

ZP CEO K.M. Gayathri, Hunsur Assistant Commissioner Mohammad Haris Sumair and other officials were present.

How to reverse ageing and prolong life? - 2

Formula: Diet-exercise-fasting

Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa 94 years (1899-1993)

Journey of .....Ageing

Old age is no doubt boring as much as tiring. If left to be alone with children separated and health not good it is worse. Ask any old man. Age is only a number. Old in body but young at heart (another way of saying 'he is a dirty old man!'). Now is the time for an old man to realise the advantage of marrying a much younger woman! Hellow!! However, she should be in better health and not of the nagging kind to have the advantage!

I have read autobiographies of a few famous (if not famous, who will read them?) lawyers, doctors, professionals and found them regretting their inability to pursue their passion and profession due to old age. These people had hoped to die with their boots on, as the saying goes. They had hoped to fade away doing what they had been doing all their life, for over 50 or 60 years, with passion. But the age had taken its toll. The famous lawyer was unable to stand before the Judge. In one case a merciful Judge provided him a chair close to him and in another case the lawyer who was hard of hearing was made to sit by the side of the Judge!

Same with doctors. There was a case where an aged surgeon was unable to proceed and half way through the surgery calling his assistant to take over. Another time, the scalpel slipped from his hand. All because of the infirmities of old age. Poet can write 'Death, be not proud.' But is he bold enough to write 'Old age, be not proud?' No. It is then, left alone or with the spouse, one thinks of old age homes. Choosing one itself is a big headache. Worse is when one needs to depend on others for taking a shave, bath and physical movement, even to take food. Answering nature's call? Like being pushed to hades. God forbid. Wheel chair is beckoning!

Why do I write in this manner? I am provoked by my friend K. Vijayakumar, who sent me a book on my birthday titled "IKIGAI — The Japanese Secret to a Long and Happy Life." His optimistic note on the inner flap of the book is, 'Let growing old motivate…' Motivate what? To meditate? Well, it has motivated me to write this column. A good pastime in these days of pandemic. Here I go.

First let me declare that there is no secret as the sub-title of the book claims. Second, there is no mystery in the word IKIGAI. It means a Japanese word suggesting a concept that "the happiness of always being busy." It also explains the 'extraordinary longevity of the Japanese on the island of Okinawa' where 25% of the people with over 110 years of age live. This island Okinawa has a place called Ogimi known as 'Village of Longevity.' Reason: Partly attributed to a fruit Shikuwasa — a lime-like fruit that packs an extraordinary antioxidant punch. Eating it could be that secret !

Those in government or private service aspire for retirement. The book says there is no word in Japanese that means 'retire' — leaving the workforce for good as in english. It seems, having a purpose in life is so important in Japanese culture that the idea of retirement simply does not exist there!

So in old age, how do you meet the definition of 'retirement'? Having a 'purpose.' Old man can't do hard work. So he avoids strenuous exercise. Therefore, keep moving here and there, take a walk or work in the flower or vegetable garden. However, equal importance is given to 'mental exercise' which keeps old man's ability to react to his surroundings.

The book says the 'mental workout' like playing a game offers new stimuli and helps prevent the depression that can come with solitude. Now I know why I used to see a group of old men in my club playing cards or join in for the 'tambola.'

If people seem older than they are, it is primarily because of stress they undergo, says the book. However, paradoxically, the book says that while sustained, intense STRESS is the enemy of LONGEVITY, low levels of STRESS have been shown to be beneficial! And, hear this. Living with low levels of stress tend to develop healthier habits, smoke less and drink less alcohol. Now does it mean practicing the latter — smoke less, drink less alcohol — is the secret of developing low levels of stress? GOK.

And here is one top secret — to keep the body young, keep the mind active! The book prescribes many practices useful for longevity like yoga and drinking green tea and enumerates rules of IKIGAI for long life and healthy living. They are:

1. Stay alive; do not retire. 2. Take it slow — no hurry, no rat race. 3. Don't fill your stomach, don't eat like a pig, nay like a glutton. 4. Surround yourself with good friends (difficult to shop!). 5. Get in shape for your next birthday — lose weight. 6. Smile. The best dress one can wear is 'smile' some say. 7. Reconnect with nature — does not say if it is for answering the call of nature! 8. Give thanks to nature, which gives you free light, air, and to your ancestors because of whom you are here. 9. Live in the moment. Forget the past and damn the future. You are here and now. That's what Osho Rajneesh also preached — this is the glorious moment, don't miss it you fool.

And what did Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam say? "Drink! for you know not whence you came nor why: drink ! for you know not why you go, nor where." Further, "Dead yesterdays and unborn tomorrows, why fret about it, if today be sweet."

10. Follow your ikigai. If you yet do not know what ikigai is, then your mission is to discover it. After all, long life is no guarantee for a happy life.

At the end there is neither a secret nor a known formula for a long life and if one makes it long, there is no formula to make it a happy life. It is a matter of luck and chance. Let us count our blessings and endure the miseries.

TAIL-PIECE: Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa in an interview to 'The Illustrated Weekly of India' had said: In old age, every day is a bonus. Life becomes a burden if one is not keeping good health.

CL-9 licensees can serve food during dry days, says High Court

Bengaluru, June 2 (Agencies)- The Karnataka High Court (HC) on Friday directed authorities not to prevent a bar and restaurant with a CL-9 licence, along with other similarly situated establishments, from serving food during the five dry days.

Liquor sales have been banned by Mysuru District Administration from June 1, 4 pm to June 3, 4 pm, due to voting for Karnataka Legislative Council Elections and the announcement of results for the Lok Sabha Polls on June 4 (24 hours).

June 6 will also be a dry day from 6 am to midnight when the vote counting for the Legislative Council Elections will occur.

These orders are issued in accordance with Representation of the People Act, 1951, which mandates a prohibition on the sale and consumption of alcohol at least 48 hours before polls.

However, Kushal Raj, a CL-9 licensee in Bengaluru, filed a petition in the Karnataka High Court, arguing that the authorities have prohibited liquor sales contrary to the instructions of the Returning Officer.

In its affidavit before the Court, the Election Commission of India (ECI) enclosed a copy of the calendar of events for the Council elections. It was submitted that the term 'polling date' cannot be restricted to the actual date of polls and must be interpreted as per Section 135C of the Representation of People Act, 1951, which mandates the prohibition of the sale of liquor 48 hours before the polling date.

"I do not find any illegality in the impugned orders, which are passed in accordance with Section 135C of the Representation of People Act, the communication of the Election Commission of India, and Rule 10-B of the Rules, 1967. The authorities are directed not to restrain the petitioner and other similarly situated persons from serving food in the bar and restaurants," Justice Hemant Chandangoudar said.

Mysuru Hotel Owners' Association President C. Narayanagowda told Star of Mysore that following the High Court order, bars and restaurants with a CL-9 licence will serve food on dry days and anyone objecting to this will face contempt of Court.

Notably, car drivers were the highest traffic violators for not wearing seat belts, overspeeding, and lane violations, followed by heavy goods vehicles, including KSRTC and private buses.

The cameras have been strategically installed at several key locations across Ramanagara and Mandya Districts. In Ramanagara, these locations include Puthappanadoddi Gate, BilagumbaSamip, Kethaganahalli Railway Cross, Kempanahalli Gate and Mudigere Gate.

Mandya has also seen the deployment of ANPR and Intelligent Transport Management System (ITMS) cameras at various spots.

Additionally, CCTV cameras have been installed specifically at toll gates along the Highway. In addition, the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) has installed video cameras at five other locations in each direction and set a speed limit of 100 kmph.

Additional Director General of Police (Traffic and Road Safety), Alok Kumar stated that despite the presence of these cameras, people continue to break the rules and exceed speed limits, leading to accidents, which shows an utter disregard for road safety. "It shows negligence on the part of people towards road safety, and for their own and others' lives," he said.

Once a violation is caught, notifications are sent to the phones of all traffic violators, making them aware of their offences. Penalties are deducted immediately from their FASTag accounts when violators' vehicles exit at tolls.

In a related development, the Mandya Police has issued a press release saying that violators who have received notices through SMSes can pay the penalty online through https://payfine.mchallan.com:7271

Mysuru, June 2 (AG&BCT)-Speaking to Star of Mysore on the record 20-year low inflow, Superintending Engineer of KRS Dam Raghuram said that there has been an overall monsoon failure, leading to depleted inflows.

"Whatever it rains in the catchment areas of Kodagu, it is first used for agricultural purposes in the Mysuru and Mandya regions, and only then does it flow into the KRS Dam. We hope that this coming monsoon will bring good rainfall," he said.

The training session was attended by over 530 counting personnel, including Micro Observers, Assistant Returning Officers, Counting Supervisors and other staff members. The counting of votes is scheduled to take place on June 4 at Maharani's College of Commerce and Management in Vinayakanagar (Paduvarahalli).

The training was conducted by K.C. Satish, Asst. Professor at Maharani's D.Ed College, Krupa Ganesh, Asst. Professor at H.D. Kote FGC and P.S. Raghu, Asst. Professor at Maharani's College, Mysuru. Additional counting staff have been appointed, apart from 160 counting supervisors, 187 counting assistants and 171 counting micro-observers.

During the training, the process of operating EVMs was explained thoroughly, starting from the initial stage of opening the Strong Room at 7.30 am on June 4 to bringing the machines to the counting tables according to machine numbers, serial numbers and other relevant data. Additionally, the process related to the Electronically Transmitted Postal Ballot System (ETPBS) and postal ballots of employees was elucidated.

Officers must report by 6 am

It was emphasised that counting would commence at 8 am with the counting of postal ballots. Counting personnel were instructed to ensure their presence at the counting centre by 6 am. Mobile phones and other electronic devices are strictly prohibited within the counting centres. The entire counting process will be videographed to ensure transparency and fairness. Counting staff members were advised to approach their duties with a calm mind and without confusion. Randomisation of counting staff duties will be conducted on the same day at 5 am.

Breakfast will be provided for the staff at the counting centre. Following breakfast, staff members should report to the Returning Officer of their allotted Constituency. All rules and regulations issued by the Election Commission regarding the counting process must be adhered to. Lunch arrangements have been made for all staff members, who must display their ID cards to re-enter the counting rooms.

During the training, participants were encouraged to thoroughly understand all aspects of the process and any encountered problems should be brought to the attention of the Returning Officer. It was emphasised that the Election Commission has issued instructions regarding the counting.

WORD OF THE DAY

Dynasty

Pronunciation: DYE-nuh-stee (Noun)
Meaning: Dynasty refers to a group (such as a team, family, etc.) that is very powerful or successful for a long period of time. It is also often used for a family of rulers who rule over a country for a long period of time, as well as the period of time when a particular dynasty is in power.
Origin: Dynasty has had quite a run in English. For over 600 years it's been used to refer to a ruling family that maintains power generation after generation. At the time dynasty was first used in English, for example, England was in midst of rule by the Plantagenet dynasty, whose line of succession provided 14 kings, from Henry II to Richard III. Around the beginning of 19th century, the word developed the figurative sense "a group or family that dominates a particular field for generations." Nowadays, this sense of dynasty is often applied to sports franchises that have prolonged runs of successful seasons, divine right not required. Technically, any team is capable of becoming this type of dynasty, including not only Kings and Royals, but also Ducks."
Example: "The Vanderberg dynasty was in steel, railroads & textiles as well as munitions. Their money was so old that it underlay the US like geology. Before there had been a US, in fact, there had been Vanderbergs and they had already been rich." —Francis Spufford, Cahokia Jazz: A Novel, 2024

THE ODD WORD

Saorsa

Freedom, Liberty.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

On the Fence

Meaning: The phrase 'On the Fence' is used to describe being undecided about something.
Origin: The origin of the phrase 'On the Fence' has its roots in Middle English, when the word 'fens', short for 'defens' was originated. Later, an "e" was added to the term to form the word defense as it is used today. Fences often define ownership, and to sit on a physical fence is to straddle a position between two different properties. Metaphorically, sitting on the fence is straddling the position between two ideas without committing to either of them.
Example: "Has he decided whether he will take the job yet?" Answer: "No, he's still on the fence."
